- listen for audible air leaks around brake components and lines, and ensure the air pressure is between 90-100 psi (620-690 kPa)
- check for S-cam flip-over and measure pushrod travel
- check that the slack adjuster is the same length (from the center of the S-cam to the center of the clevis pin) and that the air chambers on each axle are the same sizes
- inspect required brake-system warning devices, such as ABS malfunction lamp(s) and low air-pressure warning devices
- ensure the breakaway system is operable on the trailer, and the tractor protection system, including the bleed-back system on the trailer
